

LEGAL ADVISORY SERVICES

An independent source of accurate, reliable information for the senior executive

Kenyon's Legal Advisory Service complements Kenyon's suite of crisis management services. We provide independent legal advice on crisis-related matters of criminalization, investigation and insurance. Our clients need to make appropriate crisis management decisions but are often restricted through lack of consistent information on the implications of the available strategies. Kenyon's legal advisors are singularly focused on providing timely advice to senior executives to give them the confidence to proceed.

This service is delivered for Kenyon by our Senior Vice President of Legal Services, Sean Gates. Sean is one of the world's most accomplished and respected aviation lawyers. Retiring from his own London practice in 2013, Sean is now independently working with Kenyon. He provides expert opinion and legal counsel for the short to long-term implications of a crisis.

Legal Advisory Services is now included as an integral part of Kenyon's Disaster Recovery Service and Disaster Human Service. Clients that currently retain these two services can activate our legal services in the normal manner and will receive preferential rates. For clients that do not retain either of the other services, legal will be available as a consultancy service on direct request to Kenyon.

The Service

- Legal advice available to clients both pre-incident as a consultancy service or post-incident as part of other Kenyon operational services
- Crisis-experienced international legal advisors
- Advice and guidance available either by telephone or by the immediate deployment to your headquarters or incident location
- Assistance on all corporate legal matters following an incident including insurance, criminalization, and investigation
- For organizations without in-house legal counsel, Kenyon can directly support the executive team with interim legal expertise that is not linked to insurance or brokering
- Kenyon's legal advice includes reviewing media releases for potential issues

How it Works

- Clients who already have Disaster Recovery or Disaster Human Services with Kenyon will automatically have the legal service added to their Kenyon Service Agreement
- Clients requiring legal support following an emergency would activate Kenyon in accordance with their existing Kenyon Activation Guides
- For pre-incident consultancy for both clients and non-clients, Kenyon should be contacted at any of our worldwide numbers or via our website
