FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

KENYON LAUNCHES ONLINE LEARNING CENTER

12 July 2017 – Kenyon International Emergency Services is pleased to announce the launch of the highly anticipated Kenyon Online Learning Center (KOLC). Based on Kenyon’s practical experience, our registered Team Members can now access online learning resources to help them form cohesive teams more quickly during deployments, as well as more fully understand the broader organization of a mass fatality response.

Clients partner with Kenyon because of our experience and dedication to caring for families. Our Team Members join Kenyon for the same reason, and now, through the KOLC, we can share even more of our experience, company culture and values with our Team Members prior to deployment.

“The courses are not meant to teach Team Members how to perform their unique skills, but rather prepare them to practice their already developed skills as part of the Kenyon approach to managing a mass fatality incident. In many incidents, Team Members will be working in response to highly publicized events that affect hundreds of survivors and victims’ families,” stated Team Member Manager Kathy Ricker.

Our Team Member network is unique, global and responsive. It is made up of nearly 1700 experienced professionals and experts in their fields. When crises occur, clients need to manage the response quickly and keep their business running. Kenyon Team Members strengthen our clients’ teams and give them the flexibility needed to take care of all the details. The KOLC was developed to educate registered Team Members on how Kenyon manages an operation and what to expect once deployed. “With a consistently growing registry of Team Members globally, we are excited to be able to bring this specialized training to them in a convenient, cost-effective manner. Our clients can be assured that we are always improving and preparing for the next crisis,” commented Kenyon President Brandon D. Jones.

Kenyon’s close affiliation with remote group, our chosen partner to provide online training, places us in the unique position of providing excellent professional development opportunities for our global responders. Remote has trained thousands of people in numerous countries around the world. Learn more at http://www.kenyoninternational.com/remote_online_learning.html.
