

CALL CENTRE SERVICES

The First Contact for Families Seeking Information

Kenyon's International Call Centre assists companies and governments in managing the surge of telephone inquiries from concerned families and friends following an emergency. It is the focal point, generating multiple subsequent interactions with family members as they seek information on their missing loved ones. The service is international and operates irrespective of the cause of the emergency or the scale of the consequences.

Our Call Centre has over 500 trained personnel working in four different functional areas. The Inbound Team of up to 100 agents receive the initial calls and start the process of determining who may have been involved in the emergency. The Notification Team is responsible for return contact with families to seek additional information. All of the agents are supported by the Travel Team and the Data Management Team. The Call Centre is an essential part of any company's crisis management architecture. The information gathered at this stage and the way in which families are treated will be crucial to the success of the overall response operations.

The Service

- Kenyon's proprietary crisis management software, Kenyon Response®, is used to guide the agents with their response to callers and to manage the huge volume of collected data
