

CARLES MONTANA

KENYON CRISIS COMMUNICATIONS ASSOCIATE

Carles has been a communications consultant for 25 years. This includes media, public speaking and crisis communications training. He has worked for private companies, medical societies, governments, political parties and the UN.

As a journalist, he worked for Spanish and international media covering many crises, including terrorist attacks and aviation and train accidents. This experience has given him invaluable knowledge, which he now applies within the crisis communications field.

Holding a B.A. in Journalism and three Master's Degrees (Broadcast Journalism, Digital), he has lived in the US, Great Britain, Ireland, France, Germany and Equatorial Guinea. Carles is fluent in Spanish, English and French.
